Step 4: Identify Goals. Spend some time thinking about your priorities in life and the goals you have for yourself. Make a list of your personal goals, perhaps in the short-term (up to three years) and the long-term (beyond three years).

- Short-term: _____
_____
- Long-term: _____

Step 5: Write Mission Statement. Based on the first four steps and a better understanding of yourself, begin writing your personal mission statement.

A personal mission statement, is of course personal... but if you want to truly see whether you have been honest in developing your personal mission statement, share the results of this process with one or more people who are close to you. Ask for their feedback.

Finally, remember that a mission statement is not meant to be written once and blasted into stone. You should set aside some time annually to review your goals and mission statement -- and make adjustments as necessary.

Sample Personal Mission Statement Development

1. Past success:

- developed new product features for stagnant product
- part of team that developed new positioning statement for product
- helped child's school with fundraiser that was wildly successful
- increased turnout for the opening of a new local theater company

Themes: Successes all relate to creative problem solving and execution of a solution.

2. Core values:

3. Identify Contributions:

- The world in general: develop products and services that help people achieve what they want in life. To have a lasting impact on the way people live their lives.
- My family: to be a leader in terms of personal outlook, compassion for others, and maintaining an ethical code; to be a good mother and a loving wife; to leave the world a better place for my children and their children.
- My employer or future employers: to lead by example and demonstrate how innovative and problem-solving products can be both successful in terms of solving a problem and successful in terms of profitability and revenue generation for the organization.
- My friends: to always have a hand held out for my friends; for them to know they can always come to me with any problem.
- My community: to use my talents in such a way as to give back to my community.

4. Identify Goals:

Short-term: To continue my career with a progressive employer that allows me to use my skills, talent, and values to achieve success for the firm.

Long-term: To develop other outlets for my talents and develop a longer-term plan for diversifying my life and achieving both professional and personal success.

5. Mission Statement:

To live life completely, honestly, and compassionately, with a healthy dose of realism mixed with the imagination and dreams that all things are possible if one sets their mind to finding an answer.
